As summer winds down, I want to unveil our new fall schedule. Sunday Evening Ecclesia (SEE) has traditionally focused on young adults, youth, and children. This fall, we are expanding SEE to include educational opportunities for all ages. It is my hope that these increased opportunities for education and fellowship assist in our growth as faithful disciples. Besides, it's fun to share meaningful conversation and food. I hope to see you there!

Adults will have two options from which to choose:

The Parables of Jesus (is a Bible study focused on some well known and not so well known parables) Activity Building

You'll Get Through This: Hope and Help for Your Turbulent Times by Max Lucado (Based on the story of Joseph, the study lays out seven steps for surviving the trials of life) Rock House

Here are the fall dates for SEE (5-6:30pm):

Sept 8 and 22

Oct 13 and 27

Nov 10

Classes meet from 5-6,

Meal is from 6-6:30pm (donation suggested)

Also, it is important to note that the Children's Choir (grades 1-5) will meet every Sunday night at 5pm. This means on SEE nights the Children's Choir will meet from 5-5:30, and the Preschool Choir will meet from 5:30-6. On SEE nights children and preschoolers will also participate in thirty minutes of fun activities when they are not in choir.

It's going to be a great fall!

Peace,

-Jeff

CHURCH MISSION FOR AUGUST

The WMU is the sponsor of the Church wide mission outreach for August which is school supplies for Tryon Elementary. Group 1 selected this outreach because the children have supplies at the beginning of the school year but as the year progresses, the school runs out of supplies to give to the children that need assistance. Supplies needed are: wide ruled paper, #2 pencils, two pocket folders with no rings but with punch holes, non-spiraled composition book, boxes of tissue and disinfectant wipes. The number one need throughout the year is notebook paper. Boxes for collection of the supplies is located in the Lair Sunday school room.

NOTES FROM CANDY

God speaks to me through all kinds of music—but especially through hymns. One of my primary areas of interest in seminary was hymnology—the study of hymns. The “official” definition of the Hymn Society is: “A Christian Hymn is a lyric poem, reverently and devotionally conceived, which is designed to be sung and which expresses the worshipper’s attitude toward God or God’s purposes in human life. It should be simple and metrical in form, genuinely emotional, poetic and literary in style, spiritual in quality, and in its ideas so direct and so immediately apparent as to unify a congregation while singing it.”

I continue to find hymnody to be one of the areas in which I find meaning: encouragement from those who have gone before me and from those who are also my contemporaries, words of wisdom about the nature of God and the loving-kindness of Jesus, and a call to draw nearer to the community of faith as we seek to share the love of God with others. Because of the connection I feel to hymnody, the hymnal is often my source of devotional thoughts and encouragement.

One of my favorite hymns is “When I Survey the Wondrous Cross” by Isaac Watts, which was probably written in the early 1700s. Many hymns are based on specific scriptures and this particular hymn is based on Galatians 6:14-18. I believe it communicates to us about the grace of God. The words to the hymn may not be as familiar to everyone as they are to me so I have quoted it here for your appreciation:

When I survey the wondrous cross, on which the Prince of Glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss and pour contempt on all my pride.

Forbid it Lord that I should boast, save in the death of Christ, my God;
All the vain things that charm me most, I sacrifice them to his blood.

See from his head, his hands, his feet, sorrow and love flow mingled down;
Did e’er such love and sorrow meet or thorns compose so rich a crown?

Were the whole realm of nature mine that were a present far too small;
Love so amazing, so divine, demands my soul, my life, my all.

The first stanza emphasizes that everything we have and are is exposed in the light of God’s love demonstrated on the cross. The hymn goes on to highlight that it is okay to be human, God became human and experiences our hurt and pain.

The concluding stanza brings home the full message of the hymn by pointing out that we must become aware of God’s attitude toward each of us. Something happened concretely at the cross. Dr. Eric Rust, well-known hymnologist of the 20th century, said “Christ’s death is a window to the heart of God.” I cannot be as I have been when I recognize and see how much God loves me. We see how much God loves us and that love draws us to God. Christ reveals to us the depths of God’s love. We are drawn to God through Christ. The final part of the last stanza underscores that we give our lives to God because God has given life to us—that’s grace!

Gracious God, lover of our souls, whose love is offered to us whether we know it or not, may we let down our barriers and open ourselves to receive your presence. And in receiving your presence grow in the grace to give ourselves fully as did your son, in whose name we pray. Amen.

-Candy
