June Mission—Safety Net Diaper Program

Our June Mission Focus will ensure new moms in Polk County have diapers for their young children. Diapers are a basic necessity for children—a typical baby needs 10-12 diapers a day, and a toddler needs approximately 8. Diapers are not covered by social welfare or federal assistance programs, but are listed as 'hygiene items' - not essentials. We will collect diapers in all sizes (except newborn), including "pull-ups." Containers for them are in the Lair Sunday School room, outside the nursery, and in the third-floor hallway between the Adult Sunday School classrooms.

Call to Worship
Gracious Lord, you have blessed us with freedom— freedom to follow or to turn away; freedom to love or to hate; freedom to heal or to hurt. You ask only that we follow your ways, loving our neighbors as ourselves. In the midst of our turbulent lives, help us find teachers to show us the gifts you set within us. And help us claim these gifts today, for the sake of the world, for the glory of God.

LISTENING FOR GOD'S WORD

Celebrating Religious Liberty Jeff Harris Magistrates are not by virtue of their office to meddle with religion or matters of conscience, to force or compel people to this or that form of religion.

(John Smyth, Baptist Minister, 1612)

We rejoice in our freedom and accept the charge to live
faithfully within it.

No king nor bishop can or is able to command faith. That is the gift of God. To constrain princes and peoples to receive the one true religion of the gospel is wholly against the mind and merciful law of Christ.

(Leonard Busher, Baptist Layperson, 1614)

faithfully within it.

Religious matters are to be separated from the jurisdiction of the state, not because they are beneath the interests of the state but, quite to the contrary, because they are too high and holy and thus are beyond the competence of the state. God has appointed two kinds of government in the world, which are distinct in their nature, and ought never to be confounded together; one of which is called civil, the other ecclesiastical government.
(Isaac Backus, Baptist Minister, 1773)

We rejoice in our freedom and accept the charge to live
faithfully within it.

Every person ought to be left free with respect to matters of religion. The Holy Author of our religion needs no compulsive measures for the promotion of God's cause.
(General Committee of Baptists in Virginia, 1785).

We rejoice in our freedom and accept the charge to live
faithfully within it.

Government has no more to do with the religious opinions of men than it has with the principles of mathematics. Let every man speak freely without fear--maintain the principles that he believes --worship according to his own faith, either one God, three Gods, no God, or twenty Gods; and let government protect him in so doing.

(John Leland, Baptist Minister, 1791)

faithfully within it.

Baptists have one consistent record concerning liberty throughout all their long and eventful history. They have never been a party to oppression of conscience. They have forever been the unwavering champions of liberty, both religious and civil. Their contention now, is, and has been, and, please God, must ever be, that it is the natural and fundamental and indefeasible right of every human being to worship God or not, according to the dictates of his conscience, and, as long as he does not infringe upon the rights of others, he is to be held accountable alone to God for all religious beliefs and practices. Our contention is not for mere toleration, but for absolute liberty. . . . It is the consistent and insistent contention of our Baptist people, always and everywhere, that religion must be forever voluntary and uncoerced, and that it is not the prerogative of any power, whether civil or ecclesiastical, to compel men to conform to any religious creed or form of worship, or to pay taxes for the support of a religious organization to which they do not believe. God wants free worshipers and no other kind.
(George W. Truett, Baptist Minister, 1920)

faithfully within it.

Baptists believe in free churches within a free state. We believe religious liberty to be an inalienable human right and indispensable to human welfare. Profoundly convinced that any deprivation of this right is a wrong to be challenged, we condemn every form of compulsion or restraint in religion.
(The American Baptist Bill of Rights, 1939)

We rejoice in our freedom and accept the charge to live
faithfully within it.

on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
